Samsung's CEO and chairwoman unveiled a breakthrough iQ smartwatch prototype this morning at Samsung's annual developer conference in San Francisco, and though its display is still just 14 percent of an inch, its battery should be able to last for two days before requiring you to go to a charging station. Display is one of many breakthroughs you'll want to look for in the iQ -- but so is the device's battery. Not only will it last far longer than other smartwatches (including the Apple Watch), it'll be smaller, too. The iQ is Samsung's first smartwatch running Tizen, the open operating system that combines Samsung's Android smartwatch experience with Linux. The iQ's battery, which Samsung says is small enough to fit on the watch's bezel, is 50 percent bigger than any of the iWatches that came before it. Samsung says it's the first smartwatch to have a 2,800 mAh battery and that you can charge it in a few hours instead of the usual 24 hours or more. But that's just one development. The other is a new kind of cell that creates 1,550 milliamps of power to make it easier to manage the up to 1GB of RAM that Tizen is capable of offering. But Samsung says it's never designed a battery before for a smartwatch. J.K. Shin, who was also in San Francisco to show off the working prototype, says he was surprised at how many problems there are with current smartwatches, like the so-called performance problems that force people to add more battery to their devices. Other issues include the need for frequent charging, and the fact that connecting to a phone can be a major hassle. The iQ's display will be 200 times brighter than that of any other watch and is still far behind smartphone displays, but it should be good enough to find things, especially 50b96ab0b6

Q: The solution of the differential equation $y'' - 2y' + y = e^x$ The integral of the equation $y'' - 2y' + y = e^x$ is $y(x) = Ae^{\frac{x^2}{4}} + Be^{-\frac{x^2}{4} - \frac{2}{5}x}$ If this is true, is there a general solution of the differential equation? A: No. For example, if we put $y = u + v$ and note that $yu'' + 2y'v = e^x$, then we have $y'' + 2y'v = e^x$, which has solution $y = y_1 e^x + y_2 x e^x$ where y_1 and y_2 are constants of integration. Note that your solution satisfies $y'' + 2y'v - e^x = 0$ and this has no solution, unless either $y_1 = 0$ or $y_2 = 0$. In other words, the particular solution $y_1 e^x + y_2 x e^x$ is completely general. Q: how to change parent while hiding a child? I know this has been asked before, but i don't find a proper solution... i have this html child
