you can use vs code to view, open, and debug source files (java or other languages) and binary files (including compiled or msbuild-based projects). for compiled projects, you can add debugging to a visual studio project. you can see more details in debugging, vs code - compiling, and debugging java code. or you can start the server manually. power apps studio includes a startup script in the startup folder called _logo.bat. you can run it directly on your workstation to start the service. for a more user-friendly desktop experience, you can start the service directly from the add/remove services applet in windows control panel. you can set the startup type to automatic, manual, or disabled. the startup type enables or disables the start of the server on your next login. the dashboard package with source code, is available in the source code package. we are also working on a csproj based project infrastructure. and we would love to hear feedback about this. please add any feedback here or on github. canvas sdk is a free, open source framework for developing machine learning applications using the microsoft cognitive toolkit (cntk) and the microsoft power bi ai service. the sdk is maintained as an open source project in github. finally, a big thanks to all our users that have been using our new beta build. we are always looking to improve power apps studio, and we would love to hear any feedback you have. you can report bugs here: <https://github.com/nusmvn-public/fmxuiappsdk/issues>. and you can provide feedback directly on github at <https://github.com/nusmvn-public/fmxuiappsdk>. you can also find power apps studio on the microsoft store: <https://www.microsoft.com/store/apps/9wugdw83yg4q> or you can sign up for the free version on the app store: <http://app.powerapps.com>

my map test5.1.55 has a wall in it and all it's surroundings have a white space filled. i think that's all it takes..maybe some other bug. error messages like "statement is empty" are displayed in studio. the older map sources worked fine. thanks for the help is your software from a different source? i am still on 1.5.11 from earlier this year and can't provide much more information. i am open to the idea that this is a compatibility issue with your existing software and not related to the version. thank you, i downloaded the version and installed it. it didn't work. the problem was that i was using a non oem version of canvas, so it did not include the extensions needed to run the mapsource. i changed over to the oem version and the mapsource is functioning. thank you for your prompt and helpful responses. please do not convert all your.msapp files to source files and throw away the originals. we are working toward a day when you can do this, but that is not today. by far, power apps studio is still the best place to edit a canvas app. we are introducing a new way to manage and edit canvas apps, a companion to studio, not a replacement. if you create this app and save it to e:\sources\powerapps\apphub\tmsfmxui.aex, you can select the app and navigate to a different group for the current app. this new navigation functionality is available through the app launcher by power bi in the new box. use the properties pane for customization. for a new user of power apps studio, learn about the app designer by watching the video on creating a canvas app. if you're a studio developer and want to learn more about the studio api or syntax, watch the video, read the documentation, or visit the developer gallery. we have additional tutorials on our youtube channel and the documentation and we appreciate any suggestions. 5ec8ef588b
