second, what is the audio track on the video you are attempting to use emc or cyberlink media composer for? the most often used mp3/wma/aac/aiff codecs are not emc 9 compatible. if you have aiff or aac formats, you will need an emc 9 license. in addition, if you are using a vob file, you should be using emc9 rather than the older media composer in order to utilize the subtitle/author/comment data that may be present in vob files. i am having the same problem as bjontz. i did finally find a way to activate this program, but it requires a lot of manual work. there was also no method for the two button mouse on my computer to work properly. i have to use the touchpad. i wish i could find a way to get this program working in the long run. if anyone could send a link to a newer version, then that is ok. thanks for everyone's help. here is the updated information on how to activate the following version of roxio powerdirector 9. i wish i could uninstall it and get a new copy, but roxio/creator is tied to my photosuite software.. i really like roxio software, i just wish that i had a newer copy. is it possible to buy roxio software, or transfer from on another computer? hi guys, what i have just found, which hasn't been mentioned in all the threads i have searched, is that when i activate this codec, it doesn't work at all and allows me to play avi's without problems. it says it's working when i try to open a film, but playing or pausing the film doesn't work at all, no matter what video file i try. if i deactivate the codec, the avi works fine (as do all other filetypes and the default video player), so it seems like a system issue rather than the codec itself. any ideas why? tia :)
